YouScience Aptitude and Career Discovery

WHS is providing students with the opportunity to discover their aptitude strengths and connect those to possible related careers.

What is an aptitude? An aptitude is an individual's natural ability to learn or perform in given areas. It is not the same as interests, personality or learned skills.

When	Who	Why
October 4 in PLP	All students	-Measures 9 aptitudes that are key to career performance: idea generation, numerical reasoning, spatial visualization, sequential reasoning, inductive reasoning, visual comparison speed, timeframe orientation, vocabulary, and work approach. -Includes five added optional brain games to let users assess their aptitudes for numerical computation, associative memory, hand-eye coordination, visual memory, and pattern memory, and amplify their career matches.
