IMAGINE THE POSSIBILITIES

Year One Highlights

Dear Los Angeles Unified Family,

Today marks one year since the beginning of my journey as Superintendent of Los Angeles Unified. What a journey it has been.

On February 24, 2022, I released my 100-Day Plan, ten days after my official arrival to the District. This Plan outlined four actions: learning, assessing, communicating and acting. These crucial actions set a foundation for the 2022-26 Strategic Plan through community engagement, trust, collaboration and momentum. The 100-Day Plan Report provides detailed information on the outcomes of the four actions. During our learning sessions, it was a privilege to sit in focus groups with foster and unhoused youth and learn about how we can better engage them in coursework, to speak with parents after a town hall session about the needs of their child, and to engage with longtime leaders in our community about a shared vision for student success.

In June, the Board of Education unanimously adopted our District's 2022-26 Strategic Plan, the result of a collaborative process with our community, families and employees. Together, we are moving intentionally toward a common north star: to ensure our students graduate "Ready for the World." The District has proposed five high-level Pillars that represent critical areas we are focusing on over four years. Each Pillar contains several priorities and associated targets so we can gauge our progress in meeting our goals. Strategies are specific actions we can take from across the District to advance these priorities and help us meet our targets. Besides creating a blueprint for our path to our students' success, our Plan is also leading change on a national scale: local and state education agencies and professional educator networks from across the country have used the Plan as a best-in-class example.

Today I present Imagine the Possibilities: Celebrating One Year at Los Angeles Unified, a document that highlights a representation of the incredible work of our District. There is a lot to take pride in and certainly areas to grow and perfect. Our shared passion for ensuring our students, employees and District are thriving is palpable in the work we do.

This District has what it takes to be the best urban district in America. Our students have the potential to achieve beyond their wildest dreams. Our teachers have what it takes to inspire them towards greatness. Our school leaders have what it takes to move the needle on achievement, even where achievement has been stagnant for decades. These last 12 months have shown me what greatness looks like. I have also seen the challenges our systems, schools and students face. In some ways, they appear insurmountable. But student by student, teacher by teacher, employee by employee, and partner by partner we will continue to deploy solutions and resources to produce the results we are all hungry for. This is the work of turning the impossible into the inevitable.

I am humbled to lead Los Angeles Unified as Superintendent. The highlights from the past year represent an enormous effort of our schools, regional and central office staff. Their ongoing commitment and energy to the communities we serve is nothing short of extraordinary. Let's continue to do whatever it takes to ensure Los Angeles Unified graduates all students Ready for the World. Thank you for your partnership in this work.

Sincerely,
Alberto M. Carvalho
Superintendent

READY FOR THE WORLD

Hitting the Ground Running

Within 10 days, we released an ambitious 100-Day Plan to take immediate actions to support Los Angeles Unified, while devising the foundation for the work ahead, including the development of our 2022-26 Strategic Plan.

Creating a Blueprint for Student Success

The Board of Education unanimously adopted the District's 2022-26 Strategic Plan, the result of a collaborative process with our community, families and employees. Together, we are moving intentionally toward a common north star: to ensure our students graduate "Ready for the World."

ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT

Graduation Rate Rises to New High

Highest four-year graduation rate of 87.4% and for the first time outpaced the State of California.

NAEP Scores Outpace the Nation

National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) scores in reading and math outpaced the nation's scores in both grades 4 and 8.

Breaking National Merit Award Records

39 Los Angeles Unified schools were named National Merit Awards winners by the Magnet Schools of America, shattering the District's prior record of 16 schools — including one School of Excellence, eight Schools of Excellence and 30 Schools of Distinction.

Increasing Efforts for Student Progress Monitoring

Individual Acceleration Plan, a unique progress report for every student, will provide parents with a clear explanation of how their children are doing in school.

MODERNIZING FACILITIES

Bond Dollars At Work

More than 900 facilities bond projects valued at approximately $6.6 billion are underway at nearly 1,000 schools. This school year alone, Los Angeles Unified anticipates completing nearly 425 projects valued at more than $1 billion.

These projects include 21st century general and specialty classrooms, addressing earthquake safety and failing building systems, providing accessibility and site upgrades and removing portable classrooms.

NEW INITIATIVES

Increasing Engagement with Families

The Family Academy is offering Equity Course Pathways classes for families to engage in culturally relevant curriculum, define family engagement and develop action plans to stay engaged in their children's education.

Setting the Stage with the Cultural Arts Passport

Los Angeles Unified has partnered with Southern California's finest cultural organizations and venues to launch the Cultural Arts Passport, ensuring equal access to arts, culture and environmental experiences for every child.

Connecting the Community for Everyone Mentors LA

Everyone Mentors LA matches students contending with declining grades, chronic absenteeism, social emotional support and other challenges that have inhibited their academic success with a mentor from the Los Angeles community.

Addressing Early Childhood Needs

Through the Born to Learn campaign, Los Angeles Unified provides young families with information to help track their children's development milestones, engage in educational experiences and connect them with services and schools in the District.

Bridging the Digital Divide

Leveraging federal funding, Los Angeles Unified is ensuring students can access every learning opportunity available to them, regardless of their family's income. The All Families Connected campaign is closing the digital divide and meeting family connectivity needs by providing our families with free internet.

SCHOOL SAFETY

Leading the Fight Against the Opioid Crisis

To combat a national opioid crisis, Los Angeles Unified has made Narcan (naloxone) available at all K-12 schools. The District is also empowering students to be part of the solution by allowing them to carry Narcan in schools.

Increasing Community-Focused Public Safety

Los Angeles Unified's new LASAR app allows students, families and community members to anonymously report non-emergency public safety incidents in and around the District.

Providing Real-Time Air Quality Updates

The Know Your Air Network initiative, which includes the installation of sensors within a 1.6-mile radius of every school, provides students, parents, teachers and the community with important real-time data about their local air quality.

Ensuring Safe Passage to School

To ensure students have a safe passage to school, Los Angeles Unified, local law enforcement and community municipalities have provided an interconnected response to address unsafe areas.

Expanding School Safety Procedures

Los Angeles Unified has expanded safety procedures, communications protocols and investments in technology to enhance safety and security.

HEALTH AND WELLNESS

Expanding Mental Health Support

Students are able to access telehealth mental health support through a new District partnership with Los Angeles County, resulting in greater support with licensed therapists.

Elevating School Nutrition

The Food Services Division overhauled its school nutrition to provide nourishing, flavorful and student-approved food. The District is leveraging student voice and experiences to improve offerings by surveying students, offering food-tasting events and implementing social media campaigns.

Offering Telehealth Services in Schools

Los Angeles Unified expanded telehealth at school sites in partnership with local health agencies to leverage their incredible medical technology as a service to our school communities.

SUSTAINABILITY

Clean Energy Efficiency

To mitigate the District's carbon footprint and do its part to fight climate change, Los Angeles Unified launched an ambitious sustainability effort including an investment in an electric school bus fleet and charging infrastructure and implemented a new Eco-Sustainability Office led by the Chief Eco-Sustainability Officer.

Prioritizing Greening Needs at Schools

The District's Greening Index assesses the needs of schools and the surrounding community and prioritizes greening projects for the top 150 schools on the Index.

INSPIRATIONAL EDUCATORS

Teacher of the Year

Theodore Roosevelt High School English teacher Jason Torres-Rangel was named both Los Angeles and California Teacher of the Year and is a candidate for National Teacher of the Year.

Bridgette Donald-Blue, a 28-year veteran from Coliseum Street Elementary School, was selected as one of five California State Teachers of the Year.

FISCAL RESPONSIBILITY

Boosting the District's Credit Rating

The four prominent credit rating agencies — S&P Global Ratings, Moody's Investor Service, FitchRatings and KBRA — are in consensus about the financial outlook of Los Angeles Unified and view the District's long-term budget outlook in positive terms resulting in significant ongoing cost savings.

Making Targeted Investments to Accelerate Learning

Los Angeles Unified appropriated $1.9 billion in targeted investments to accelerate learning with historic expansion in early education, dual language education, special education, SENI and BSAP.

Savings Through Efficiency

The District's new organizational alignment will result in a savings of almost $40 million through the elimination of redundancies and increased effectiveness.

RECOVERY EFFORTS

Providing Additional Instruction via Acceleration Days

More than 36,000 students attended the first Acceleration Days on December 19–20, 2022 and were provided customized, individual learning experiences to address credit recovery and learning loss.

Expanding the Workforce

Los Angeles Unified hired approximately 2,000 new teachers to ensure every classroom was filled with a credentialed educator.

Strengthening Struggling Schools

100 schools were identified to foster a data driven conversation to assess needs of additional funding, support and monitoring. Through this effort, the District expanded transportation, tutoring programs and instructional support for these schools.

Restructuring Tutoring Services

Los Angeles Unified is offering an array of tutoring options to support its diverse student population including on-demand tutoring, locally designed intervention programs and virtual or in-person high-dose tutoring at the 100 priority schools.

Expanding Summer of Learning

More than 100,000 students participated in the Summer of Learning, which included arts, athletics, online learning opportunities and a variety of academic programs. It was the most attended summer school to date.

ENROLLMENT AND ATTENDANCE

Stabilizing of Enrollment

The enrollment decline has stabilized with the best matriculation rate in over a decade.

Improving Attendance

Through numerous attendance initiatives, chronic absenteeism rates decreased by nearly 10 percentage points compared to last year.

The iAttend initiative, deployed to support attendance and reduce chronic absenteeism, included visits to nearly 9,000 homes during three student outreach days and to almost 30 crisis housing sites for unhoused students and families.
